A Summary Report

CA,CMA Mukesh Phalor from the organization Youth 4 Nation was introduced by Prof. Chandra Prakash, called upon the dais with Dean 1st year Dr. Madhusoodhanan Nair and two of the members from Youth 4 nation Mr. C.V. Raman & Mr. Murthy.

The speaker being a consultant to many of the banks enlightened us on the importance of starting our own business and providing livelihood to many others. He said their motto is to have Atma Nirbhar Bharat.

Today's youth is accepting, adventurous, ambitious, expressive, fearless, focused, friendly, progressive, role model, risk taker, sensational, smart, trustworthy. With these qualities he is able to influence people around him and can motivate towards propelling India towards a developed nation. He said Entrepreneurship is Management of life. An entrepreneur brings opportunities to many people. Youth can succeed by being unique, organized, thick skinned, flexible and by having model behavior.

Today's Youth also faces many challenges like : mobile phone distractions, laptops, self-centered, short tempered, obsessed with social media, impatient, virtual world, addiction to bad habits, overly cautious etc.

There are many factors leading towards the growth of entrepreneurship in India like : Industrial structure, technology, privatization, innovation, economic policies, vocational education, science & technology parks, encouraging women entrepreneurs, awards & recognitions, self employment schemes, Research & Development subsidies, establishment of financial institutions.

Many steps are taken-up by the government like Start-up India, Stand-up India, Make in India through which one can utilize the opportunities. For entrepreneurship the capital and security are the growth inhibitors. They have to come out of their inhibitions of leaving traditional jobs and coming out to be an entrepreneur. Responsible parenting, goal setting, mentoring youth, building trust, providing opportunities, instilling self-belief and determination can be the motivational factors to pull them towards business.

The Youth can be encouraged by: divergent thinking, subject matter expert talks, brain storming, team-work, idea-box projects, financial literacy, positive relationship, good communication skills, compounding, undertaking community & social services. He said that Indian Entrepreneurs are successful because they are accustomed to a lot of stress, self reliant, go-getters and most importantly they are welcomed by the world.

Why engineers are better entrepreneurs, he said that it is because they have the ability in problem solving, mathematical bent of mind (left brain), excellent planners, optimistic, flexible.

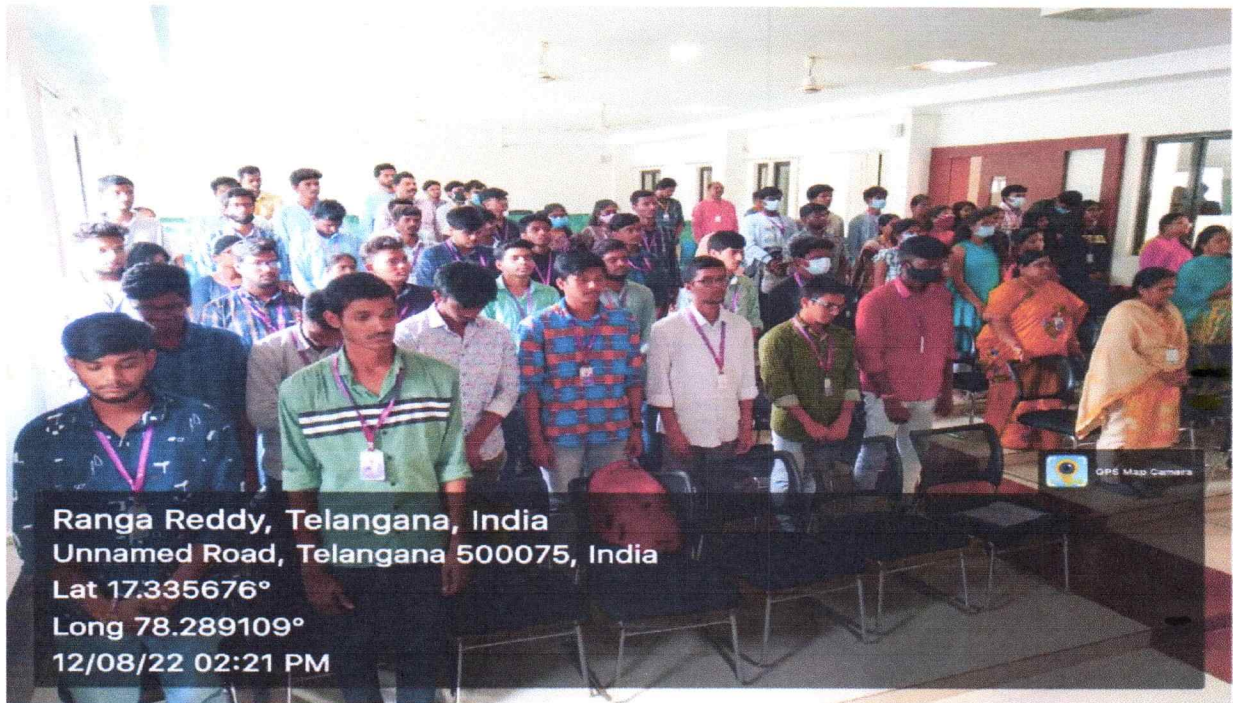

Thus he ended his talk on this point : Create future for Yourself- Be an Entrepreneur and contribute to the Nation.
